

Wasted Time

You have time, why waste it?
Avoiding what you need to do,
and straying from what you want.
Yet you sit there doing nothing, wasting time.
Those who do not have much time see its value,
They do not waste what little time is given to them.
But your time is in abundance,
you do not recognize its value because you have time.
Why waste what you have
that others don't have enough of?
Why do you sit there avoiding your responsibilities?
Avoiding your hobbies and the people you love?
Why do you waste your time?
